

Escaped Jail Inmate Recaptured

Port Orchard, Washington -- A 35-year-old Kitsap County Jail inmate, who had escaped from custody last month, was re-captured early this morning in Oregon.

Terrance Anthony Puglisi is being held in the Multnomah County Jail (Oregon) following his arrest by officers of the Portland Police Department. Puglisi also is being held on numerous charges spanning at least four other jurisdictions.

Sometime after midnight, Portland Police officers observed a moving vehicle within their jurisdiction, which had been reported as stolen. The officers tried to stop the stolen car and the driver attempted to elude the pursuing officers. The vehicle was eventually stopped and the driver apprehended. The driver was later identified as Puglisi. The time of his capture was reported as being at 12:44 a.m.

Puglisi is facing charges in the City of Portland for:

- *** Eluding a pursuing police vehicle
- *** Possession of a stolen motor vehicle
- *** Reckless driving

Additionally, there are outstanding warrants for Puglisi's arrest out of Multnomah County for:

- *** Eluding a pursuing police vehicle
- *** Possession of a stolen motor vehicle
- *** Reckless driving

There are further outstanding warrants for Puglisi's arrest out of Columbia County, Washington, for:

- *** Possession of a stolen vehicle
- *** Reckless driving

There are also warrants for Puglisi's arrest out of Clark County, Washington, for

*** Possession of a controlled substance

And, in addition to all of the above, there are also the warrants for Puglisi's arrest out of Kitsap County for:

- *** Escape from custody (x 2)
- *** Possession of stolen property
- *** Possession of a controlled substance
- *** Failure to Appear
- *** Driving While License Suspended

Puglisi's total bail amount for all of the warrants and probable cause charges that he faces is not immediately known.

Further information may be available on Monday, June 9, 2003.
