Community notification: Level III sex offender now in jail

Port Orchard, Wash. -- A level III registered sex offender, previously reported to be residing in the Manchester area of South Kitsap, is no longer at that address. He's now sitting in jail.

Chad Michael Rock, age 34, was arrested and booked into the Kitsap County Jail on Jan. 4, by officers with the Washington State Department of Corrections, for escape from community custody. Rock no longer resides in the 900 block of Peru Avenue East as previously announced, and he will not return to that location after his release from jail.

When released from sheriff's office custody, notification of Rock's intended residence will be released publicly, per standard operating procedures and within the parameters of state law.

Description: white male, 5' 10" ht., 180 lbs. wt., brown-colored hair and hazel-colored eyes.

According to court documents, Rock was convicted of rape of a child, 3rd degree, in April 1998, and of child molestation, 3rd degree, in March 2004. His other criminal history includes reckless driving; assault, 4th degree; burglary, 2nd degree, delivery of marijuana and delivery of cocaine. Rock has refused to participate in sex offender treatment.
